

When alcohol comes your way, what will you say? Think you can spend all night drinking, come to school today, ace the science test and score four baskets in the game tonight? Think again. Alcohol and other drugs take a harsh toll on your body. They destroy vital organs such as your heart, liver and brain. They can even lead to death. Before you use drugs, think about what they take from you. They rob you of your childhood, education and potential. You're better than that. Speak up. Just say NO, because drugs aren't worth your time.

~Lacey Krueger
Hopatcong High School
Grade 11